J. C. Priddy met with a painful accident last Thursday at Bessville. While endeavoring to get out of the way of the lumber trucks in the saw mill he fell, severely injuring his side.

—It was discovered last week that a bank in New York State had been systematically robbed for months and the officials had stolen over five hundred thousand dollars. Its depositors were mostly poor people.

—The Democrat says the attendance of the ward schools at Bonne Terre is so large that the teachers are compelled to give their attention to one one-half of the scholars in the morning, send them home, and teach the other half in the afternoon.

—Ten head of young cattle, well fed and kept comfortably during the winter, will bring a better return than twenty left to shift for themselves.

—It was an odd coincidence that the examination of civilians for arm lieutenantcies in Washington last week, were held in a house which Jefferson Davis occupied when Secretary of War.

—Robert Franklin James, son of Frank James, the notorious bandit, has won a scholarship in a popularity contest at Dallas, Tex. He goes to the Marmaduke Military Academy, at Sweet Springs, Mo.

—J. G. Finney went to Farmington last week with a petition to Senator Burks, asking that Lyman Kinder be appointed as a cadet from this county to the University, Columbia. We learn that the request was granted.

—An agricultural expert, who has tried both ways, says it is better to have a cow give 300 pounds of butter for five years and die on your hands, than to give 200 pounds for ten years and then make 1,500 pounds of old cow beef.

—A child has been "borned to Mrs. Grover Cleveland. There is nothing strange about this—it's the natural fitness of things—but the newspapers are making as much noise about it as we would if we were to step on a tack with both feet.

—Millionaire Thomas Lowery, the Minneapolis railway king, gave his daughter a cool draft for $200,000 on the occasion of her recent marriage to H. P. Robinson, a local newspaper editor. Newspapermen's terms are invariably in advance, you know.

—Have you grease spots on your clothing? If so call and purchase a bottle of our Magic Eraser Fluid. A single bottle will convince you. 15 cents will buy a bottle.

A. R. JACQUES.

—It is the best we ever used—Ed.]

—Married, on Tuesday, Oct. 6th, at the residence of the groom's father, Mr. Samuel G. Bedwell to Mrs. Martha I. Hitt, Rev. B. L. Bowman officiating.

—Then come the wild weather—come select or come snow. We will stand by each other, however it blows.

Oppression and sickness, and sorrow and pain, Shall be to our true love as links to the chain."

Greenbridge Briefs.

By SWAMPER, Our Reg. Correspondent.

Bro. Dodson preached at Zalma Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night.

J. W. Dixon is still courting in Marble Hill. That's right, Jim, see that the transgressors are brought to time.

A free lecture at the Barnes schoolhouse next Friday night, on "Points of School Law." A full house is expected.

Me Jamison contemplates moving to Brownwood soon, where he will assist Brown & Co. in running their stove factory.

A. T. Long is giving instructions as to road work in this vicinity. His instructions (if followed) will make good roads.

J. A. Crosby has had a field of corn destroyed by cattle that got in through some defect in the cattle guard. The Co. should right the matter.

Dan Sullivan is now sweetening up for the winter, and it is thought that he will have 400 or 500 gallons of sweetener from 2 acres of sorghum cane.

Besley of Cape Girardeau will bridge Castor at the Siler place for the purpose of conveying the black oak timber to the railroad in order to ship it to the Cape.

Grissom & King have moved their saws to the pinery, and will now cut pine lumber until a flush in Castor River. Then they will return to their old place for the winter.

B. J. Corey is again cutting hickory at his old stand, but will move his machinery to Clabbs Creek soon, where he will find hickory in abundance. The business will be conducted by Corey & Son.

Quite a wind storm passed through Zalma last Saturday night between 9 and 10 o'clock—so strong that it turned several saddles that were on horses hitched to the rack, and blew the blankets from under them and left them on the ground to frighten the riders as they approached their steeds to return home.

Sep. 28, 1891.

LUTESVILLE LOCALS.

Louis Duncan has returned to Lutesville.

Rev. Ketterman returned from St. Louis last week.

Frank Wilson has been quite sick with chills and fever.

Mr. Hall, one of our merchants, had the misfortune last week to step on a nail in such a way as to wound his foot. It is very painful, but he is able to get around by the aid crutches.

Miss C. L. Carter of Dexter lectured here on temperance Wednesday evening a week ago. The lecture was good and set forth many truths. She organized a W. C. T. U. lodge at this place.

Judging from the attendance at prayermeeting Tuesday evening at this place, there are but very few christians in this town. But we know better, and trust that they will come to the front and show their colors.

W. A. Phelps of Lutesville was in town last week. Mr. Phelps was looking for a location for a flouring mill. He was favorably impressed with this place, and will return in a short time to decide whether he will build a big mill at this place.—Greenville Journal.

A young man in this county, becoming engaged recently, was desirous of presenting his intended with a ring appropriately inscribed, but being at a loss what to have engraved upon it, he asked his father for advice. "Well," said he, "put 'When this you see, remember father.'"

NOTICE.

Owing to my delicate health, which is due to this climate, I have resolved to change for my health, and have closed out to Dr. W. B. Finney, whom I can heartily recommend to all as a competent and trustworthy physician, he holding a diploma from St. Louis College of Medicine as there is in St. Louis.

I, therefore, request all that owe me to come forward and settle their accounts, as I am going to St. Louis soon.

Yours Respectfully,
A. B. MAYFIELD, M. D.
